In case of litigation, we may keep your personal data until the litigation is fully resolved. We will then either delete or archive it according to applicable law.

12. Sensitive data

We may sometimes be required to process data relating to judicial information, such as fines, traffic offences and criminal data relating to claims (police report,...).

We process your personal data exclusively for the following purposes:

- For the claims management and related disputes: recovery of amounts in respect of claims incurred during the rental period, etc.

If necessary, this data may be transferred to the client (employer), to the insurers and brokers involved in the management of the claim, to the professional experts appointed by us or by them (lawyers, legal experts in charge of the file), to any subcontractors involved in the management of claims, as well as to the authorities and courts.

- For the management of traffic fines and administrative sanctions, as well as all offences related to the use of the leased vehicle, via the following procedures:

- (i.) Use of the FMS platform to transfer data to the database of the Crossroads Bank for Vehicles. In this case, Axus does not collect sensitive data.

The Federal Public Service Mobility and Transport has, in collaboration with Renta Solutions SA and the Federal Police, developed an IT platform called Fines Management Services (FMS) to manage the fines related to leased or rented vehicles and to easily identify the usual driver of a vehicle owned by a leasing company or a rental company.

This platform, managed by Renta Solutions SA, allows the authorities to collect the identification data of the usual driver of a vehicle via the database of the Crossroads Bank for Vehicles ("Database"). The Database allows the competent authorities to contact potential offenders directly without any involvement of Axus or the employer of the concerned person, therefore enhancing its right to privacy.

In this respect, Axus transfers the following personal data of the driver to the FMS database: last name, first name, birthdate and license plate number.

The Directorate-General for Mobility and Traffic Safety of the Federal Public Service for Mobility and Transport is the data controller of the personal data contained in the Database (Article 6 of the Law of 19 May 2010 establishing the Crossroads Bank for Vehicles). Renta ASBL is assigned by law as the entity responsible for the primary collection and actualization of such data in the Database (Article 13 of the Royal Decree of 8 July 2013 further implementing the Law of 19 May 2010).

The role of Axus is limited to the transfer of this data to the Database via the FMS platform.

- (ii.) Data not processed via FMS

In some cases, data concerning traffic fines and traffic offenses are not processed via the FMS system. In such cases and in case of administrative sanctions, FMS is not used by the authorities and Axus, as well as its possible subcontractor in charge of managing fines, may be obliged to:

- Process information concerning the traffic fines, the administrative sanctions and the traffic offences related to the use of the vehicle, such as the place of violation, the date and time, the offence, the amount to pay; and
- Transfer personal data to the competent authorities in order to allow identification (e.g. via the website www.amendesroutieres.be or via fax /email); and
- Transfer data relating to the fine or the administrative sanction to the client (often the employer of the driver) in order to allow the management and invoicing of the fine or sanction.

13. How do we ensure the security and integrity of your personal information?

We protect your data through technical and organizational security measures against accidental or unlawful destruction, accidental loss or alteration, unauthorized disclosure or access, and against all other unlawful forms of processing.

Where we outsource any data processing, we impose contractual obligations to protect your information.

14. How can you control and express your preferences on the use of your personal data?

Access. You can request access to or a copy of your personal data we maintain about you. You may also request information on the purposes of the processing, categories of data, categories of recipients, data retention terms, etc.

Portability. You may have the right to obtain a copy of any personal data that we hold about you in our records in a compatible format to allow you to exercise your right to data portability.

- for a period enabling Axus to verify the accuracy of your personal data in the event you contest the accuracy of your personal data;
- if the processing is unlawful and you wish to restrict the use of your personal data rather than deleting it;
- if you wish Axus to keep your personal data because you need it for your defense in the context of legal claims;
- if you have objected to the processing but Axus needs to check whether it has legitimate grounds for such processing which may override your own rights.

Rectification. You may also have the right to correct inaccurate personal data and to complete incomplete personal data.

- if your personal data is no longer necessary for the purpose of the data processing;

15. Who to contact in case of questions or concerns regarding the processing of your personal data?

The Group Société Générale has appointed a Data Protection Officer common to the four entities of the SG Group in Belgium, amongst which Axus. This Data Protection Officer can be reached via be.dpo@axus.be.

In addition, Axus has designated a Data Protection Correspondent within its organization.

In that regard, any questions, complaints, or comments about this Data Privacy Policy or our data processing practices should be sent via e-mail to the following e-mail address be.privacy@axus.be.

For the avoidance of doubt, this person does not have the capacity of a data protection officer within the meaning of the GDPR.

Axus' Data Protection Officer will then act as an escalation level for any issue regarding an (alleged) non-compliance with the Regulation and/or applicable data protection laws.

16. What happens when we change this Data Privacy Policy?
